

Intro to CodeXchange

Find & share code samples through fellow developers.

You can easily search for code by typing in keywords.

The screenshot shows a category page for 'PowerScript' with 6 items. At the top, there is a search bar and navigation links: 'Start', 'Prev', '1', 'Next', 'End'. Below the search bar are three buttons: 'New Code', 'Mark Codes Read', and 'Subscribe Category'. The main content is a table with columns for 'Title', 'Replies / Views', and 'Last Post'. The items listed are:

Found a useful code sample? Give credit so code keeps flowing!

You can share a useful code sample through many social networks!

If you found the code sample useful, please vote on it!

Sharing your code is easy and designed to spark discussions.

Put clear and short title, explain what it does in the description, and attach your code sample.

Keep the box checked so you are notified of discussions about your code.

Once you're ready to share your code sample, you can preview your changes before you submit.

A screenshot of the "New Code" form. The form has a "Title" field with the placeholder "Enter title for your code". Below it is a "Description" section with a "Write" button and a "Preview" button. The description field has a rich text editor toolbar with various icons for bold, italic, underline, link, unlink, list, and other formatting options. Below the description field is an "Attachments" button. At the bottom of the form, there is a "Subscribe" checkbox which is checked, with the text "Check this box to be notified of replies to this code." At the very bottom are "Submit" and "Cancel" buttons.

Respond to the fans of your code samples.

You can easily know if there have been any replies to your code.

The screenshot shows a 'My Codes' interface with a table of code samples. A yellow arrow points from the text 'You can easily know if there have been any replies to your code.' to the 'Replies / Views' column of the first code sample.
